

REDBOX GALLERY

CHRISTMAS £750 COMMISSION OPPORTUNITY

CALL FOR ARTIST'S PROPOSALS

Introduction:

Redbox Gallery inhabits a K6 telephone box on Queen Street in Horbury.

The box was acquired from BT by Horbury Civic Society in 2018 and it was refurbished for use as a contemporary art gallery. The box is watertight, has light and power and is locked.

The curatorial policy is that all exhibiting artists must find a Horbury institution or organisation to engage with and then create a new work inspired by that engagement.

Fees:

All commissioned Redbox artist receive a fee of £500 and a materials budget of £250. Works usually remain on display for 12 weeks, but this is by arrangement.

Since December 2018 the following artists have exhibited work in Redbox: Tony Wade, Helen Thomas, Stathis Dimitriadis and One to One Development Trust.

Xmas 2019 commission:

We now want artists to submit outline proposals for our Christmas commission. For this commission there is an opportunity to work closely with Blackburn's Florist on the High Street.

Your proposal should be made on the submission form available from www.horburycivicsociety.org.uk
